WARREN TEACHERS GIVEN SALARY INCREASE OF $600 PER YEAR

The critical status of the teacher situation in Warren was relieved somewhat Monday night when members of the Joint School Committee voted a salary increase of $600 for those teachers not at a maximum. This increase will become effective during the 1956-57 term.

The increase sets the minimum salary at $3500 for a bachelor's degree and $3700 for a master's degree. The maximum salary for a teacher holding a bachelor's degree will be $5300 and $5700 for the masters. The committee also raised the cost of living bonus to $500, making it clear that any allocation made by the state for salaries be used to relieve the districts of a similar amount.

A large delegation of Warren Borough Teacher's association members was present at the meeting to discuss their views and make salary schedule recommendations to the committee.

Another major issue discussed by the group was the new high school site. A recommendation was approved authorizing the officers of the board to go to Harrisburg to discuss with the Department of Instruction the possibility of using the present high school building and site and other possible sites.

A letter from Roy Cleaver, advisor of Consolidation and Transportation of the Department of Public Instruction, was presented to the committee. It pointed out that in Warren it is especially difficult to find even a satisfactory location for a school building because of the river and the surrounding hills. He mentioned that the flattened tops of the hills are quite usable, but are difficult of access. After stating that the final choice of a site must be on the basis of relative accessibility -- not only for busses and walking pupils, but also for water and sewer connections -- he pointed out the only site he could confidently recommend for approval was the Swick site on Fifth ave., E.

Another location discussed and not recommended was Branches Hill at the top of Jefferson st.

The board approved a resolution authorizing submission of bills in the amount of $7,520.35 to the Civil Defense for flood disaster. The estimated loss is $30,800.

It was announced that the state reimbursement for the school lunch program will be reduced to four cents in April and one cent in May. Permission was given to pay $581, special services for the month; $1423.50, substitute teachers; $559.50, janitors overtime; $2290.85, extra flood pay. A total of $2048.71 was paid out of the activities fund and other bills in the amount of $6973.35 were approved. Orders written during the month amounted to $1119.24.

Approval was given to employ Matthew Hosie as acting assistant principal at the high school as of September, Mrs. Mary Jane Hubbard and Mrs. Betty Sampson to teach full time at Beaty, and S. Harry Spackman, of Clarion State Teachers College, to instruct at the junior high school. Warren Carr will replace Homer Barr as assistant football coach and James Johnson will be assistant basketball coach in the coming season.

A resolution was passed establishing a vocational homemaking department, and the high school was given approval to have an exchange student for the 1957-58 term.

A NAVY HELICOPTER from the U. S. Naval Station at Niagara Falls, N. Y., utilized the Warren Airport Tuesday while on a search-flight of a missing Cessna, believed by some authorities to be down in this area. Two other 'copters that were hired by the missing pilot's family, were also in this section along with a seaplane.

This helicopter's landing was only part of a great deal of activity that took place at the Warren port Tuesday, which is some indication that an airport is of use here.

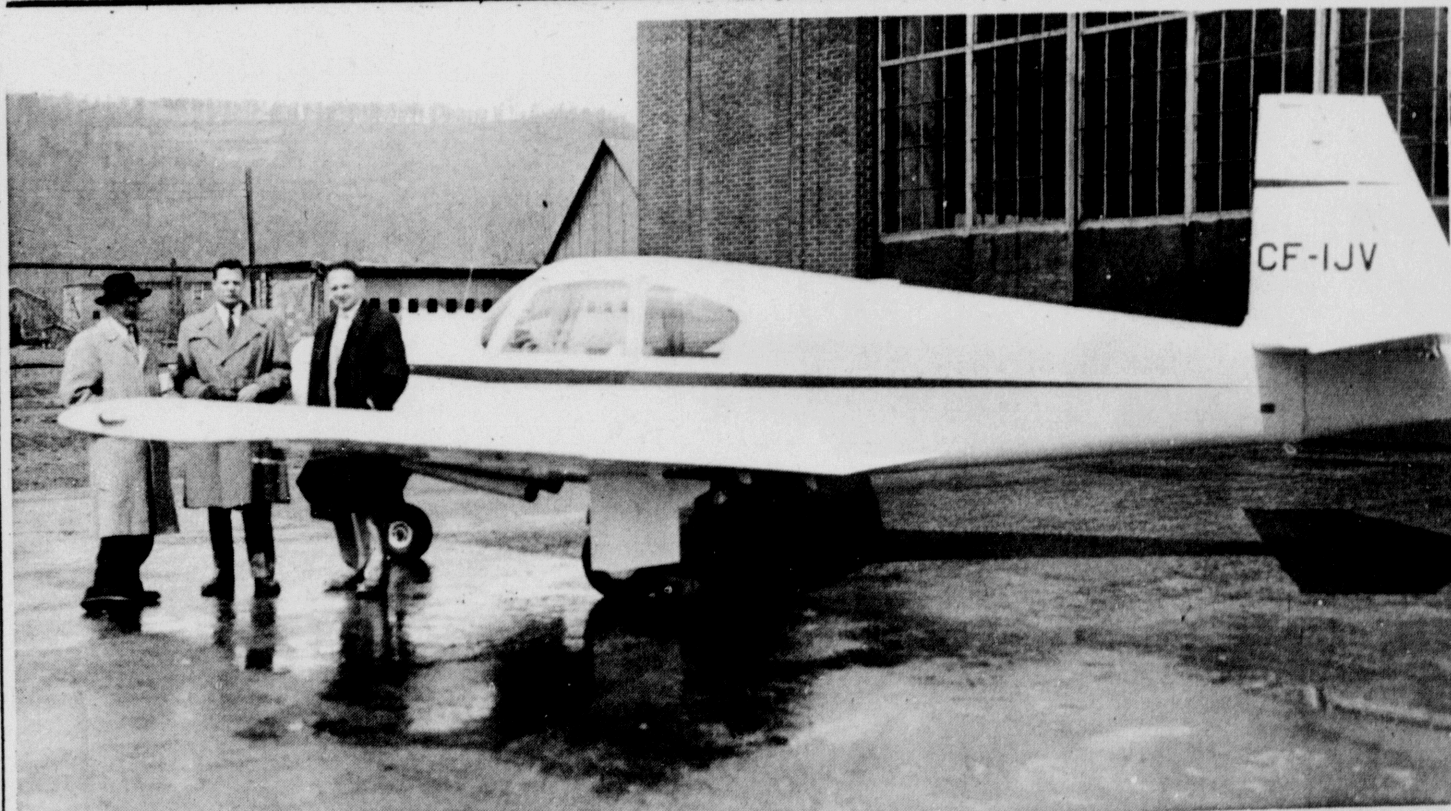

SLOW TRIP . . . Captain Frederick Way, Jr., of Sewickley, stern wheels it to Warren. Here he sputters past Wildwood. At some points the current was so stiff that the boat made almost no headway. In spots it made none at all and other courses had to be found. On some ruffles the paddles slapped the bed of the stream.

The Captain arrived in Tidioute Friday night, and spent most of Saturday attempting to make Warren. He finally stopped at Crescent Park about mid-afternoon, Sunday. Here he awaited rain in hopes that higher water would let him go further upstream.

His trip was not helped by the fact that the river was flowing at a height of only five or six feet, despite a very high flow in the Conewango Creek which has been only a foot or two from spilling over the lowlands again this week.

EN ROUTE TO TORONTO Tuesday were these three pilots of the Canadian city. They departed from Kerrville, Texas, and stopped at the Warren airport for refueling. They are Frank Ogden, Dean Dignam and Harold Langlois. The former is a Canadian distributor of Mooney Mark 20 planes, which he states sell for $12,500 in the states. Mr.

Ogden also informed us that business planes are the coming thing today and that there are now 25,000 in operation.

A CANDIDATE for the office of second vice president of the Pennsylvania State Future Teachers of America is Stanley Lindberg. The Warren High school student will be running for office at the state convention in Millersville on April 20 and 21.

SECOND IN ABC ALLEY

A Warren county team finished second on an ABC booster squad this week to earn itself $75. Abplanalp Dairy, consisting of Al Munson, Deac Lay, Bill Lohnes, Ken VanDewark, and Don Mills, totaled 2650. However, they earned most of their glory through Al Munson, whose 79 years attracted both the papers and television in the Rochester area.

TOURNAMENT LEADERS

Pete Juliano proved Sunday that even without a handicap he can hold his own in the current men's annual bowling tournament. He piled up 699, scratch score, to take the lead in the singles division. A couple of obstinate pins on his last ball prevented him from tacking up another 700.

Following him in the standings, all with handicaps, are Joe Suppa, 681; B. Pollard, 674; J. Kostyal, 660; G. Biehls, 659; D. Aberg, 651; W. Gnage and H. Wyman, 644; J. Fallin, 643, and L. Zandi, 641. All but Aberg, Wyman, and Zandi, rolled their scores at the Penn last Sunday where the tournament will be completed this coming week end.

The doubles lead was taken over by Joe Suppa and Joe Kulbacki with 1305. R. Covell and R. Farnsworth are second with 1250. Then comes Busty Pintagro and Spinner Johnson, 1249; H. Skelly and L. Genberg, 1240; L. McAllister and C. Bennett, 1230; H. Still and T. Fazio, 1221; W. Gnage and M. Gnage, 1210; A. Michel and L. Chimenti, 1210; B. Simonsen and V. Erickson, 1204, and Chuck Fox and Jerry Angove, 1200.

Unofficially, we believe Joe Suppa with 1980 is the all-events leader with 602 in the team, 697 in the doubles, and 681 in the singles. At least he looks like the man to beat.

The schedule for next Sunday follows:

1 P. M.

Timely Request For Dam Money Announced

With the primary election just a few days away, we have received a release from the office of Congressman Leon H. Gavin to the effect that $284,000 for the Allegheny River Reservoir Project Report has been included in the supplemental appropriation request sent to congress by President Eisenhower and Congressman Gavin, who is titled chairman of the bipartisan flood control group for western Pennsylvania.

This is in addition to the $100,000 included in the regular bill. So far $241,000 has been spent, as itemized in these columns months ago. The $384,000 now sought would still be short of the $800,000 that now is named as the amount needed for the project report. (It seems to double every time we look.)

The release says the flood control group hopes to have this preliminary report done by 1957 and work on the dam started by 1958. That also is an election year. Let us not forget.

SONGS FOR THE COUNTY. Vocal artists of Warren County schools gathered in the Youngsville high school gymnasium on Tuesday evening to participate in the All-County Chorus. Parents and friends formed an appreciative audience as they participated in the festivities which were under the supervision of the musical directors of the four schools -- Youngsville, Sheffield, Tidioute, and Northern Area.

TIDIOUTE BANK ROBBER ARRAIGNED TODAY

Charged with the hold-up of the Tidioute bank, Joseph Stuart Schwartz, age 22, of West Middlesex, Pa., was arraigned before Justice Fred Berry this morning. The defendant pleaded not guilty, and a preliminary hearing was scheduled for April 30, at two o'clock, before Justice Berry. He is represented by Attorney Henry Nicholson.

The defendant also is suspected of two other bank hold-ups, Shippenville on November 29, 1955, and Clintonville, December 2, 1955.

The Tidioute bank was held up August 18, 1955, with a loss of about $11,000.

Schwartz has been held in the Warren county jail for the past two days. He was identified yesterday in a police line-up staged at Franklin.

WET START

The few fishermen with whom we have talked didn't have much success on the opening day of trout fishing. A few of them got a little wet.

However, it is early and the streams are running a bit wild. Inasmuch as the hatcheries had one of their best years and streams should be well stocked, they will start biting one of these mild spring days.

COPTER COUNT

Wheels Up is the name of an operation which is being carried out by the United States Air Force for the Pennsylvania Game Commission. Training helicopters will be used by student pilots to provide a count of the fishermen on various streams. It started Sunday and will continue throughout the season on five selected streams.

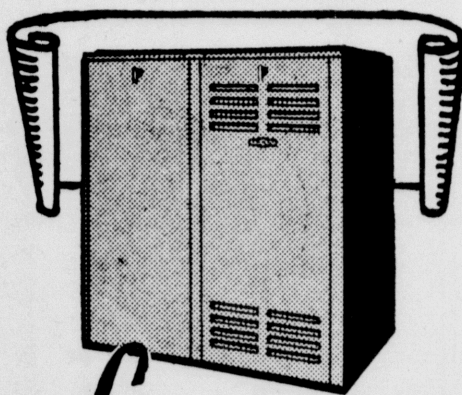

Formerly this was done by wardens, but it was impossible to obtain the pressure points, and the hours at which the greatest concentration at given points developed. These H-19's are the same planes that were used for rescue work during the floods caused by Diane last August.

WELCOME

The rain may have driven many fishermen off the streams Sunday afternoon, but it still was welcome. Some fishermen enjoy fishing in the rain, if it is a mild day, and it was when the rain first started. They also believe it is a choice time for good catches. But for all of us it was a welcome downpour because of the extreme dryness of the forests and grasslands. If the dryness had continued a few more days, fishing might have been stopped.

JEEPS, PRO AND CON

Forest Ranger Larry Stotz in his current column which appears in some of our papers, points out that the four-wheel drive of the modern jeep has been a big help in many forestry jobs, such as fish stocking, fire protection, timber marking, and other works which is speeded up by these little cars that can bust their way over rough terrain. But there is another side.

The jeeps also are bad medicine in the hands of irresponsible people. Where traffic has been blocked to protect picnicking grounds, the jeep party often ignores signs and ruts up the area which the foresters are trying to preserve in good condition.

Logging roads often are blocked off at the end of a cutting operation to preserve the lumber, provide wildlife food strips, and divert drainage. When jeeps bust through the earth barriers they let water into other roads, creating ruts, and pouring silt into trout streams with adverse effects on fishing. They also destroy the heavy investment in the food strips.

Used wisely, the jeeps are a major help to the sportsmen and conservation. Used unwisely as a method of violating restrictions to travel, they prove costly to all of us. Those are sportsmen's dollars they waste when game and fish are harmed.

BEAVER CATCH DOWN

As previously reported here, the catch of beaver this year was away off the pace. Late figures reveal that 2,973 of the animals were trapped, which is much lower than the 3,459 of 1954 and the 3,176 of 1955.

Blamed are the low prices and the bad weather with its iced water.

The leading county was Crawford where 357 beavers were caught. Warren rated in the list of fourteen counties where 100 or more were tagged. Forty-six of the sixty-seven counties produced pelts.

Lloyd Whitney, from Warren.

Mr. Whitney is quoted as saying that his firm pays only $10 a year license fee, and neither the employers or the employees pay an income tax. You can make it this brief, if you have to buy a job, investigate very carefully. And better than that, forget it.

NOT GOODYEAR
The Rettinger Raincoat Mfg. Co. is misrepresenting its product when it labels them with the word "Good-year". Or so says the Federal Trade Commission. This implies that they are made by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., which is contrary to fact.

NOT FOREIGN PERFUME
If you have bought perfume, toilet water, or cologne made by Greenglass Distributing Corp., under the impression that it is foreign made, pour it down the drain. And may do just as good a job, incidentally, but they probably shouldn't rate the price of imported odors.

Yes, it does, both in receipts and in terms. Again in February the gas utilities increased their sales, this time 6.9 per cent over last February. This is proved out by the announcement that the first two months of 1956 revealed the largest increase in magazine pages and advertising income ever experienced, or at least ever reported. The gain is seven per cent in pages, and the price must be up because the revenue gain is thirteen per cent.

Arguments Against Dam Stated By Capt. Way

As the result of our invitation to those who oppose the dam, we have received just one letter, and that from a resident of Sewickley, which, incidentally, is a very high and dry community.

To the Editors, Warren Observer: Gentlemen:

Will the proposed Kinzua Dam remove future flood threats in Warren?

No. Practically everyone who has studied the subject agrees that effective prevention of overflow at Warren must include some type of flow control in the headwaters of the Conewango. Let us stress here that the Kinzua project will have practically no influence on Conewango floods.

Will Kinzua Dam lessen flood threats in Warren?

Absolutely. Yes, by controlling flood waters originating above Kinzua in the Allegheny River and its upper tributaries, there is no doubt that flood threats at Warren will be diminished. It is proper, at this point, to inquire whether the expenditure of $100 million dollars is justified in terms of flood alleviation for Warren.

Will the protection afforded by Kinzua Dam to Warren justify spending $100 million?

No. Such a sum of money properly invested would yield an annual return sufficient to annually pay double the 1956 flood losses in Warren. It would be cheaper to have the floods and pay double to all sufferers. The spending of $100 million to protect Warren would be worth earnest consideration if it would protect. It won't protect. The word "protect" means to permanently remove flood hazard. At best Kinzua will "alleviate." Hence the price of the Kinzua Dam, in terms of Warren's future safety, is clear out of reason; economically unsound.

What about this plan for future navigation of the upper Allegheny?

Various studies have been made with the view of extending commercial river traffic up the Allegheny as high as Olean, N. Y. This would mean constructing locks and dams at various locations all the way from East Brady to Olean. I agree thoroughly that the economic justification of such a project, in entirety, is not indicated just now. However, before long, such improvement to Franklin and Oil City seems indicated. Later on, to Warren. When Warren becomes commercially connected with Pittsburgh, New Orleans and other inland cities, the idea of extending locks and dams to Salamanca and Olean will require another look.

Why does Warren need commercial river navigation?

The term "commercial river navigation" implies much more than tow boats and barges. It means -- and probably more important than the actual tonnage transported -- a regulated waterway. Modern industry is interested in locating along the shores of rivers. The Ohio River, harnessed in 1929, has lately been termed the "Ruhr of America," inasmuch as an enormous prosperity has blessed its inhabitants. Without the improved river, very little industry would have been attracted. This circumstance is not alone true of the Ohio valley. It is true of any river region where the waterways have been modernized. The upper Allegheny is the richest potential area available east of the Mississippi.

Would not the Kinzua Dam properly regulate the flow of Allegheny River water for industrial use?

No, it would not properly regulate the flow. To entice modern industry into a valley, the navigation feature must not be neglected. Many large firms originally locate along an improved river with no immediate idea of utilizing the navigation feature. Often, that comes along later. May I add, here, that the railroads paralleling an improved river always benefit enormously.

What, would you say, is the chief objection to the Kinzua Dam?

By far the chief objection, to my mind, is the horrible prospect of permanently drowning thousands of acres between Kinzua and Salamanca. Those who sponsor Kinzua, in my notion, whether wilfully or otherwise, commit treason to the future prosperity of northwestern Pennsylvania. They propose to forever remove an area which is virtually ear-marked for exciting industrial development.

How should Warren's flood problem be solved?

The problem of overflow from the Conewango, according to the U. S. Engineers, can be helped a great deal by a "safety valve" outlet, sort of a ditch idea, to drain excess water into Lake Erie. The flood waters from the upper Allegheny -- an affective portion at least -- can be held back in smaller reservoirs located on several of the larger creeks. It is entirely probable that a local treatment of the mouth of the Conewango, and of the banks of the Allegheny, at Warren -- a widening and deepening program -- would have an effect of a favorable sort.

Does the author of this article have an axe to grind?

Not at all. I own no real estate in the Allegheny valley. I own no interest in any industry located in the Allegheny regions. If I am biased in any way whatever, it is through almost a lifetime of practical observation and interest in the development of inland waterways and of the valley populations which border them. I have descended the Allegheny River by boat from Olean to Pittsburgh ten times since 1938, and have lately brought a boat up from Pittsburgh to Warren. I profess a great interest in the Allegheny and its people, and am proud to number among my friends at least 200 persons who live and work here. I might close with the observation that a high percentage of the folks I have talked to, and who are keenly interested in these matters, feel approximately as I have attempted to express myself here.

Thanks for this opportunity to say a few things, and my apologies for the length of this communication.

Sincerely,
Frederick Way, Jr.

Arguments Against Dam Do Not Hold Water

In this issue, and possibly on this page, is a letter written by Frederick Way, Jr., who we respect as a river navigation enthusiast, but with whom we very much disagree. Perhaps his statements are so obviously unfounded, and have been refuted so often by authorities on the subject, that we need not go to this trouble. We will be as brief as possible.

Mr. Way suggests that our trouble comes from the Conewango. Mr. Way last Saturday and Sunday spent his days coming upstream in a stern wheeler, which we believe is pictured on these pages. He had trouble getting up some of the riffles, and in fact scraped bottom. This he did while the Conewango was flowing at close to flood stage. The Allegheny had not responded enough to give him his limited ten-inch draft. It was riding at only five or six feet on the measure at Warren.

He says the spending of $100 million dollars for the protection of Warren is not justified. He says we would save money by paying Warren for its losses.

The Kinzua dam is not proposed solely as a protection for Warren. Dikes would do that. The dam is a part of a nation-wide system. It is the largest of a group of dams in the Allegheny, Monongahela, and Beaver river area. Several of these, including the ones at Tionesta and on the East Branch of the Clarion river, have been completed and are very much appreciated by residents in those areas.

The dam will provide an even flow of water throughout the open months. A flow of clean water that should encourage recreational and industrial use. It also should encourage river transportation as far as Warren, if that is practical. All of these advantages could easily make $100 million a good investment.

As for what river navigation or transportation will do for this area, we don't want it. The thought of this becoming the Ruhr of America makes us want to move, and many of us would if it became that industrialized. We can see no national benefit from various areas bidding against each other for the country's industry.

We believe a much healthier condition can be developed by helping the river provide its advantages. Clean its water, maintain a healthy flow, and let what comes naturally develop. Which will be cottages, resorts, better fishing, swimming, boating, industry that wants clean water and will help keep it that way, and a minimum of flood problems.

Let us not forget, also, the vast increase in values that will evolve when present areas that are constantly threatened by floods suddenly become desirable. Today it is difficult to float a loan for property in such areas as the West Side of Warren. With flood control this would become valuable land. And so it is with many other lowland spots.

The letter talks of drowning thousands of acres of land between Kinzua and Salamanca. For every acre so covered you will increase the value of another. And the land surrounding the resulting lake will be of much greater value than any farms that might be added to our already surfeited farm situation.

We never have heard army engineers say that the answer to our problem is control of the Conewango creek. They have a plan to control those waters, as we have mentioned many times, and those who own property along the Creek should be protected. Such a plan, which involves spilling an overflow of the lake into a gorge that leads to Lake Erie, is a part of the overall plan, and not a substitute for the Kinzua dam.

And engineers have told us that smaller dams will not do the job. They claim the streams available lack area on which to build dams of sufficient size to impound adequate quantities of water. This is obvious even to a layman.

Mr. Way says the dam would not properly regulate the flow of the Allegheny river. This completely contradicts both private and government engineers. The fact is that the flow of water through here goes as high as seventy to eighty thousand cubic feet a second, as was the case March 8 of this year. It goes as low as 150 cubic feet per second in August and September. Imagine a ribbon of water a foot high and a foot wide across that broad expanse and you get an idea of how low it becomes. It spreads so thin you can wade across on your tip-toes without wetting your heels, and the sewers find bare ground for their refuse.

A dam would maintain a flow of about 1700 cubic feet per second, or a figure in that area, depending on the waterfall of the particular year. It actually encourages river travel. Above Warren river travel is a question under any circumstances. We believe that the dam will do a better job of maintaining an even flow than a series of expensive locks which will not control floods, and will be of no use during winter months. Also of no use during low August, September, and October periods.

Mr. Way also says that a high percentage of the folks with whom he has talked agree with his remarks.

Mr. Way should talk to those circulating petitions in Warren. They ran out of forms the first day.

There is one aspect of this entire subject which constantly confuses your editor. He knows some of the nicest people who oppose the Kinzua dam. But he doesn't know one authority who says it won't do the best job for all of us.

But no matter how many engineers give us their opinion, and no matter how much publicity is given to such facts and figures, there are those among us who shake their heads and say there is something better.

We still are hunting for that something better. We still are looking for the argument against the dam that will hold water as well as those which defend it.

FAULTY SCHOOL MATH.
 A Warren school official has been quoted as saying that a new high school would require real estate taxes totaling 45 mills to pay off the bonds. We suggest that this gentleman look up a mathematics teacher.

Assuming that the school would cost about $2 1/2 million dollars, and that the state would pay two-thirds of the $2,100,000 share, the Warren area jointure would be left with $1,100,000 to pay off. You could finance a loan of this size for thirty years at three per cent for the cost of about three mills. Our millage now is twenty-five. We seem a long way from forty-five. In fact, it seems that ordinary arithmetic would reveal that an increase of twenty mills would pay off the cost in about three or four years.

We need a high school, and a new one. Nothing else will suffice. Remodeling the old one will mean doing it all over again in a very few years. If there is anything we can't afford it is building the school twice.

DEMOCRAT PRIMARY
 There is a Democrat party primary shaping up in Warren county next Tuesday. Though all of us should be interested in the primary election, there is very little to excite one in the mild Republican race.

A glance at the Democrat side will reveal quite a contrast. There a large segment of the party is making an effort to improve the leadership by removing the present chairman and what they describe as one-man rule. This means a battle for committee posts. And there is a real one.

This is a healthy situation and there is little doubt that much can be accomplished for politics generally in Warren county if the Democrat organization is strengthened by good leadership. The voters will not have a real choice of candidates in Warren county until we have two major parties.

HOW HIGH A DAM
 We understand that at least one local commentator has asked why the Kinzua dam need be so high? Surely, even a layman can figure that one out. The height is determined by the grade of the land back of the site. Once you know how many acre feet you wish to impound and the area the given typography will require to do it, you will know how long the resulting lake will be. The height of the land at the upper extreme of the lake determines how high the dam will be. If the dam site is at 1200 feet above sea level, and the upper extreme of the lake is at 1328, your dam certainly will have to be over 128 feet high. Yes?

WANT A PETITION?
 Anyone interested in circulating a petition in favor of the Kinzua dam can have one for asking. They have been provided free of charge and can be obtained from John Carbon. Call him at the Observer, 1513. In fact, any of the Observer offices will be glad to obtain one for you.

PROBATION FUND SHORT
 No one connected with the Warren County Probation Association is discouraged by the fact that its annual drive for $5,000 was short about $400. Actually, over the two-year span, the Association was able to turn over $10,000 to the Permanent Endowment Fund in the hands of the Warren Foundation, Inc., because of an excess last year.

Judge Alexander C. Flick, who is very much behind the effort to make the probation idea work, expressed his satisfaction with such net results as the appointment of A. J. McDonnell as probation officer and the fact that there were ninety-four new givers this year. He also is pleased with the permanent gifts annually received from PTA groups, churches, clubs, and other organizations. And don't go away! Just in case you forgot, why not send a check or bit of cash to the fund, care of Judge Flick or the Warren Rotary Club?

SKI CHAMP
 Ray G. English, of Jackson Run, is doing well in the all-Army ski championship that has been staged at Ft. Ladd, Alaska. As a member of the Blue Battalion team, he traveled ten miles in one hour and five minutes, second best in the field. Our last report was that he had a twenty mile race still to go.

BIGS GET BIGGER
 We may not have the figures exact, but it goes something like this. The top one hundred of the leading one thousand stocks on the market, or about ten per cent of the total, represent sixty per cent of the total market value. Which again suggests that the major companies and corporations have enjoyed the largest increase.

IKE UNMOVED
 We were happy to see President Eisenhower veto the farm bill. He obviously thought it was a bad one. It also did not come close to what he wanted. It was the first sign of a willingness to take his program to the people. Whether you agree with the program or not, it is good to see a man willing to stand by his convictions. We just wonder if he hasn't waited about three years too long for such a practice.

WE RECOMMEND

We haven't seen it but an unusual movie might be found in "On the Threshold of Space". This is a movie based on high altitude testing and jet developments. It looks into the future with colorful and exciting shots from heights to which no man has gone. This is done by cameras in balloons. The cameras also are mounted on many other objects which are propelled from planes at high altitudes and speeds, and on the ground at terrific speeds. It should offer some unprecedented sensations, and a realistic picture of current research, woven into a drama.

FINGER ON VIOLENCE

The Kefauver committee has placed the finger on violence on movies, with specific examples and a strong plea for better self-control. It appears to be an intimation that if the movies can't do better than now is the case, perhaps some other kind of control is in order.

It is contended that there are some movies which require violence in hopes of shocking people into realization of an existing condition. Such movies include the Blackboard Jungle and The Man with the Golden Arm.

However, the committee considered many movies too brutal, either because they presented too many killings in detail or went to great length to explicitly describe the details of the methods used. There are minds which are strongly affected by such revelations. They either are apt to put the knowledge to use or will play at doing so.

The committee lists the brutalities in several movies which it specifically names as too violent, and of little moral value. They are: The Big Combo, Gang Busters, Big House, U.S.A., Kiss Me Deadly, Cell 2455, Death Row, Crashout, and Black Tuesday.

Commentators on the report also suggested that some producers may pack their movies with killings so that a bit of self-editing still leaves plenty of blood-letting. The code administrator then can tell critics that he greatly reduced the violence originally found in the production.

BOOKS TO MOVIES

If you have read any good books lately you may find one of them developing into a movie. At the present time a long list of books and plays are being screened. They include: No Time for Sergeants, The Story of Mankind, Face in The Crowd, Band of Angels, Marjorie Morningstar, Sayonara, Giant, A Cry in the Night, Goodbye My Lady, Santiago, The Burning Hills, Buffalo Grass, The Girl He Left Behind, The Pajama Game, Melville Goodwin USA, Time Limit, The Bad Seed, and Auntie Mame.

BIG GOLF YEAR

Golf should do better than ever before in this area if the potential players have the money to spend. Maplehurst opens its additional 18 this summer and the old nine already is seeing action. A formal opening of the back nine will take place with four of the original members who took on the big job despite a depression, playing as a foursome. They will include Shorty Northrup, Fent Crossley, Harry Stewart, and Fuzzy Fosberg.

The present owner is Fent Crossley. The club house has been enlarged under his management and the membership is about 200. Lionel Callaway, originator of the Callaway handicap system, is the pro.

KINZUA ALSO GROWING

Les Sheldon also has big plans for his Kinzua Valley Golf course which he opened last year. By fall he hopes to have a club house built, and he also hopes to find some way to serve liquid refreshments, or at least set-ups.

Les hopes to have his course ready for the opening rush on April 28. It might be ready before that, but Les isn't depending on the weather to be good. He is naming the Saturday date as his official first day.

FLOOR WANTED

Great basketball players are made in the summer. At least that is the opinion of many who have seen good players developed by constant drilling in all seasons. We have seen it work out with several boys who liked the game well enough to work at ball handling, tough shots, and floor maneuvers in months other than those which make up the busy playing season.

We understand there are several young fellows of high school age who would like to practice during the summer and fall, but can find no floor. They apparently don't belong to the YMCA, though we can't blame them for not wanting to practice in that dark spot with its limited range and angles for shot-development.

How about one of the churches? Or maybe the state armory? Such practice cannot be supervised by high school instructors. It must be on the players' own initiative. The state frowns on advance coaching. But there is nothing to prevent any athlete from improving and conditioning himself. We believe he should be encouraged to do so to the extent of having facilities available for such healthy, leisure time pleasure.

 Air-Entrained
 can "take it"

EASY-RIDING concrete streets are an all-year asset but you'll appreciate them most when spring "break-ups" make many streets nightmares of mud, ruts, bumps and dangerous chuckholes.

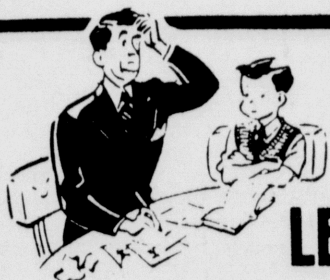

Thousands of concrete streets all over the country have served for 25 years or longer with little maintenance. Today, with the development of air-entrained concrete, your streets can be made even more durable.

Air-entrained concrete pavements resist scaling caused by chemicals used to melt ice and snow. They are skid-resistant, wet or dry, and usually cost less to build than other pavements of equal load-carrying capacity. For safer, easier driving the year around be sure your city streets are paved with long-lasting, air-entrained concrete.

Television and Radio

By John Crosby

Western in Blank Verse

Not long ago, Sir Laurence Olivier, passing through town, observed that Americans mustn't feel too badly about the English doing Shakespeare better than we do because, after all, they'd had possession of Shakespeare for a long long time. Then he added: "I'd hate to see an English western."

Well, if Sir Laurence had hung around long enough, he would have seen -- not an English western, exactly -- but a sort of Shakespearean western. It was a western in blank verse, something I never thought I'd live to see. Actually, the play "Even the Weariest River", was almost Greek tragedy in its classic simplicity of line and predestined doom. It was one of those big gambles that only television seems prepared to make, something that could have been just awful and turned out to be almost perfect. ***

It was the story of the death of a western town and the author, Alvin Sapinsley, took as his text (as well as his title) some lines from Swinburne's "The Garden of Proserpine":

"From too much love of living,
"From hope and fear set free,
"We thank with brief thanksgiving
"Whatever gods may be
"That no life lives forever;
"That dead men rise up never;
"That even the weariest river
"Winds somewhere safe to sea."

The town, Weary River, has no purpose for existing except as a waypoint for the stage coach -- and, with a railroad creeping across the prairies, the stage coach is obviously not long for this world and neither is the town. Says the narrator, Boris Karloff, who is a combination philosopher, doctor and bartender:

"Our country's history is simply told:
"The land grows up -- the people just grow old."

Growing particularly old is the town's sheriff (Franchot Tone) who can't seem to lay his hands on a bandit who has robbed the stage-coach five times and who has killed five men. The townspeople are beginning to whisper that the sheriff, a giant of a man in his day, is superannuated, that he's got to go. Into town staggers a wounded man who, the sheriff quickly discovers, is clearly innocent of the stage robbery.

Still, the townsfolk are clamoring for a scapegoat and when the sheriff's own daughter (Lee Grant) adds her voice, he agrees to jail the man. It is simply a passing moment of weakness -- and one rather gets the idea that this is the only moment of weakness in the old sheriff's life -- but it is fatal -- to himself, to his daughter, to the stranger. What I particularly liked about Sapinsley's play is that he pursues his course with relentless honesty. The old sheriff has no intention of letting an innocent man die for a crime he didn't commit; he only intended to gain a little time. But the single moment of weakness cannot be atoned for, cannot be undone. When the play ends, the stage is piled with corpses -- the sheriff, his daughter, and the stranger. And the town itself has received a sentence of death. ***

All this is a tall order to put in a western with its traditional scenes, the jail, the barroom, the dusty street, but it was all marvellously convincing and taut, the blank verse spilling out of the mouths of the barroom idlers as readily as if they spoke that way all their lives. There were genuinely fine performances by all the four principals -- Mr. Tone, Mr. Karloff, Miss Grant and Christopher Plummer who played the stranger -- and a great job of direction by Robert Mulligan.

There was one scene of rather senseless brutality -- they just don't seem to know how to get around it in westerns -- but otherwise Sapinsley wrote a stunningly unusual play.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

WARREN IS VERY POOR

After years of news coverage in Warren, including council, school board, sports organizations, rivermen, meetings of young people, library board, hospital, and many others, we easily could be convinced that Warren is financially embarrassed. It never will have what it needs in any field of endeavor, municipal service, or recreation, unless a bolt of lightning cuts loose the earth in the center of Beaty field and unveils a uranium mine. Then the council and school board would spend the next one hundred years deciding on whose side of the field it was located.

If we seem over-cynical, take a long range look at the record.

We quibble about what a new school building should include because we must cut financial corners and cannot afford the facilities our young people should have if they are to enjoy the full advantage of what is available in education these days. This week the president of our joint school committee actually proposed that we again consider remodeling the present antique high school.

We have a filthy, dangerously sewer-ridden river, and have had it for at least half a century because we can't afford to dispose of our waste in any way other than by dumping it into the open river and creek which flow directly through the center of our community.

Our streets are in very bad condition and a large share of them are unpaved because we never have been financially able to surface them.

We are unable to adequately service our streets, parks, playgrounds, and other municipal facilities because we can't afford to hire enough men to do the jobs and we pay too little to attract able help.

We do not have enough firemen and are considering the use of volunteers to augment our department because we can't afford to employ more men and we don't pay adequate wages to make the job attractive.

We do not have a police department that has sufficient men to do the work required, and we do not come up to the standards of manpower as determined by authorities on the subject because we can't afford to employ additional officers. We also have trouble keeping men because our pay does not compare with that paid men in other fields, including some police departments and systems.

We have inadequate parking in Warren and are losing retail dollars because we can't afford to create off-street parking lots near the center of our business section.

We have an airport falling apart because we never have had the money to maintain it even to a minimum degree, such as placing grass and weed-killing chemicals on the runways to prevent them from being undermined and broken by natural causes.

We have been talking about an athletic field for forty years but have no more field today than ever before, namely a field with a fence around it.

We have advanced one faltering step in recreational lines in the past forty years, and that was the construction of a hard surface area on Beaty field by the Jaycees, which provided many days of ice skating this past winter and will provide tennis this summer.

We have less tennis than twenty years ago, we have less basketball on the many courts in town, our YMCA athletic facilities are as antique as they were twenty years ago, we have no swimming or golf for anyone other than those few who can afford to join the country club, and our community still lacks a recreational program and department because there are those who successfully argue that we can't afford such luxuries.

We built a hospital, the facility that should be the very hub and backbone of an emergency situation, smack in the center of our greatest danger, flood water. We said we couldn't afford to build a new one, so added to the old one. It has been proved useless in major flood emergencies.

We have a library that is not doing its job, and hasn't been doing its job for many years, because it can't afford adequate, trained help, and has those on its board who have bucked every effort to make it a progressive, modern institution. They have needed only to say, "What will we use for money?"

(Amusingly, on two occasions when the Warren borough council seemed in the mood to readily appropriate more money to the library, its representatives have run away from the offers.)

***
What we have said here about Warren, applies also the county, and to the communities within its borders. We are being outbid for our youth.

***
With plants on all sides supplied with orders and expanding; with new plants, such as Sylvania, growing in our midst; with many working men and women earning full pays, plus overtime, it is very discouraging to constantly hear the excuse, "We can't afford it."

How will we ever afford anything if we can't pay the bill in these prosperous times?

If the man who owns a successful business can't afford more taxes today, when will he be able to do so?

If the workman who is losing no time from his desk or bench, and in many cases has a wife working also, can't afford more taxes, will he ever be able to pay them?

It suggests to us that all of us are running away. We want these things but we don't want to pay for them. We seem to believe that some great unknown will stretch forth his hand and give it to us.

We seem unable to face the fact that if we want a modern community, with the best that is available, we must plan it and pay for it. The taxes will go up. The donations must be larger.

But no one will do the job until you decide you want it done and that you will pay the bill. Most of our elected officials lack the courage to be real leaders. They want their constituents to tell them what to do. They have too big an ear for politics, or they are too afraid they will lose business or prestige if they buck the few who complain.

As individuals we must be willing to pay. As leaders we must be willing to lead. Otherwise we are too poor. Too poor in civic consciousness, too poor in courage, too poor in generosity, too poor in a sense of responsibility, too poor in willing, adventurous capital.

Unless we get outside help in the form of state or federal aid, we seem about to degenerate into a second-rate area.

Indirect Influence Is Important In Primary

By Lewis Crippen

Probably the lack of understanding of the values involved in the primary elections has been the greatest influence in keeping citizens away from the polls when they should be voting. Because they can not see the immediate results as they do in November there is a tendency for voters to consider the primary election as very unimportant and therefore given a very low priority -- much below fishing for example. Actually the primary election is most important as we hope to make clear by this feature.

Take the election which is planned for next Tuesday as an example. Both parties will elect delegates to the national conventions where the next president of the United States will be nominated. The Republican candidates for delegates have promised to honor the popular will of the people and the Democratic candidates have stated that they do not promise to vote the popular choice of the people. The actual names of candidates appearing are Dwight D. Eisenhower and William F. Knowland for the G.O.P. and Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democrats. The Republicans are promising to support the popular candidate because they are 99% sure it will be Eisenhower. The Democrats, on the other hand, can feel secure in running free-handed because the Democratic State Committee has voted unanimously to support Stevenson and there are no other candidates who have filed petitions.

You wonder where the importance of the election rests? In order to develop strong parties who will respond to the will of the voters it is necessary to select good local representatives on the county committees. The committee members elect their chairman and are responsible for selecting county and local candidates as well as influencing state choices.

This year (next Tuesday, April 24) you will have the opportunity of choosing the men and women who will represent you on the county committees regardless of whether you are a Republican or Democrat. The Republicans offer three contests -- Carleton J. Curtis or Leslie J. Dodd in Columbus twp.; Olaf Lundgren and Donald M. Holt in Pine Grove II; Raymond L. Yaegle and Perry McDannel in Pleasant twp. -- the other 47 will be elected, one in each precinct, unopposed.

The Democratic party allows the election of a committeeman and committeewoman in each precinct. This year has seen the development of the Democrats for Democratic Action which is not a political organization but merely the binding together of interested Democrats who wish to strengthen the Democratic Warren County Committee by submitting more candidates for registered Democrats to consider. Some really interesting contests have developed and it is easy to forecast a record primary vote on next Tuesday.

In Warren borough, most of the interest centers in the following wards where more than two nominees have been entered: 2nd -- Keith E. Nulph, Eugene B. Brown, Helen E. Long, Ann G. Munro, 3rd -- Isabelle H. Glenn, Thomas Conway, Evelyn Fitzgerald, Anthony C. Brindis, 4th -- Theresa J. Lavery, Thomas D. Ressler, Anthony Pirillo, 5th -- Harry C. Bancroft, Jack Larson, Violet F. Bancroft, Estella E. Erickson, 8th -- Elizabeth C. Newton, Stephen J. Massa, Frank A. Fago, Blanche Lyle.

County precincts carry the following contests: Youngsville -- William J. Rogers, Margaret B. Crippen, Dorothy Jane Kuhl, Robert E. Clark, Tidioute -- Joseph Heenan, Hazel Robertson, Louella McKown, Charles Robertson, Brokenstraw II -- Barney Roberti, Edward Archbold, Jane Mason, Josephine Roberti, Conewango II -- Benazette Cummings, Ben Huckabone, Emma Ladner, Columbus -- Edith Fox, Farmington -- Fred L. Retterer, Evelyn Wilcox, Warren Wilcox, Glade -- Albert Lauffenburger, Arlene C. Clymer, Florence Lauffenburger, Albert L. Leofsky, Frances Zolko, Russell Parker, Spring Creek III -- Isa A. Rickerson, Muro Wright, Vera Robertson. The other precincts offer just the legal number of official candidates.

For state-wide and national offices the Republicans offer the following choices: President of the United States -- Dwight D. Eisenhower and William F. Knowland, United States Senator -- James H. Duff and Paul E. Sanger, Judge of Supreme Court -- Henry X. O'Brien and Benjamin R. Jones, Judge of Superior Court -- Edward F. Furia and G. Harold Watkins, Auditor General -- Charles C. Smith and Anna Afton.

State Treasurer -- Robert F. Kent, Representative in Congress from the 23rd District -- Leon H. Gavin, Representative in General Assembly -- Allen M. Gibson, Member of State Committee -- W. Scott Calderwood, Delegates to National Convention (elect two -- one vote each) James Hall Stackpole, Elk County, and Jack J. McDowell, McKean Co. Alternates -- W. Scott Calderwood, Warren Co., and H. Ray Pope, Jr., Clarion Co.

Democrats show no competition on national or state offices and have offered the following slate which boasts the backing of the state policy committee of the Democratic State Committee: President of the United States -- Adlai E. Stevenson, United States Senator -- Joseph S. Clark, Jr. Judge in Judge in Superior Court -- Philip Carr, Auditor General -- Francis R. Smith, State Treasurer -- James W. Knox, Representative in Congress from 23rd District -- Grace M. Sloan.

Representative in General Assembly -- William O. Tingwall, of Warren, Member of State Committee -- Milburn E. Anderson, Delegates to National Convention (vote for four -- 1/2 vote each) Grace M. Sloan, Clarion Co., Henry A. Satterwhite, McKean Co., Milburn E. Anderson, Warren Co., Ross Atwell, Venango Co. Alternates (vote for two) Leo D. Sullivan, Jefferson Co., Charles M. Wolfe, Forest Co., Walter J. Deitrick, Forest Co.

Consider this primary election as being of utmost importance. Particularly consider the qualifications of candidates for county committee positions. Check the standings of the various candidates and vote for the ones whom you feel will best represent you in the party of your choice.

DAY TIME RADIO HOPES NOT ENCOURAGED

Efforts of daytime radio stations to obtain permission for operation hours from 5 a. m. to 7 p. m., or to coincide with local sunrise and sunset hours, are not receiving much encouragement from the FCC. These efforts have been supported by Warren's station and area groups which it has asked to back its appeal, including the borough council and the Chamber of Commerce.

The FCC says that such a change not only might cause trouble on the clear channels but also will cause interference among daytimers. An FCC memorandum on the subject suggests that the radio stations knew the score when they applied for their licenses, and were well aware of the "inherent conflict of interest between the two types of users, daytime and clear channel broadcasters."

GO WESTERN

Steve Allen and crew will be garbed for bronc-busting and roping when they do Tonight from Fort Worth April 23. The Texans have rigged up a rodeo area back of the auditorium and the real thing will be seen. The program is in Houston this Friday.

MAY SUE

When CBS presents the Life of Lou Gehrig this evening, on Climax, it may be subjecting itself to a suit by Sam Goldwyn, Mr. Goldwyn says all the rights to the Gehrig story belong to him.

REPLACING SHEEN

When Bishop Sheen takes off for the summer, his time will be filled by the old veteran of pops, Paul Whiteman, who will present a dance show, with contestants from the ABC-tv theaters. A master of set design and special effects, he should provide top entertainment in that field.

DRAMA NIGHT

Area viewers will have a solid evening of drama on Thursdays, next season. CBS will present Climax and Playhouse 90 for 2 1/2 hours in a row. And ABC will be matching the same hours with similar entertainment.

DEAD SEA SCROLLS

The Dead Sea Scrolls discussion will be heard on tv Saturday, at three o'clock. Dr. Harry M. Orlinsky, Jewish scholar and professor at Hebrew Union College, will speak over WBEN. He was one of the commission of scholars who translated the recently published Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

INTO AFRICA

Edward R. Murrow's See It Now will be a Report from Africa, with coverage of the Gold Coast, Kenya, Liberia, the Union of South Africa, and Rhodesia, when it is seen Monday night at ten. The second part will deal with the political problems of the dark continent, and will be seen May 17.

MISS THE WEDDING?

If anyone missed the Kelly and Prince romance this week, the highlights will be seen on WBEN Saturday, at 11 p. m.

OMNIBUS MOVES

Choice Sunday evening hours will be booked by Omnibus next fall. To do this it will switch to ABC, which is Channel 2 and WGR for most lines in this area. This will be good news to many week-enders who miss most of the week day programs and every Sunday night must bear with repetitious programming. Omnibus has class and variety. It may mean two tv sets for many families because it will definitely create a choice problem.

ONE-MAN SHOW

That one-man show to be put on by Victor Borge, about which there has been much talk, will be seen June 14. He will give excerpts from his "Comedy In Music."

THE WAY

Top Hollywood talent will be used by the Methodist church to dramatize the fact that Christian love can help people in tense moments of their lives. The program will be presented on Sundays, at 2:30, over WBEN, in cooperation with the National Council of Churches.

SPORT PROGRAMS

Bowling as a spectator sport is proving so popular that NBC is scheduling a half hour of it every Sunday night, from 10:30 to 11:00. Part of the big attraction is the money for which the big names are shooting. In the current live series, the winner receives $1 a pin, and $10 for every pin over 700. The loser gets $300, plus $10 for each pin over 700.

Ned Day in the first match just missed the $10,000 paid for a 300

A BEAUTY is this nine and a half foot sail fish caught by Miss Penny Barley. The large fish has been donated to Beaty Junior high for display in the school's science room.

BEATY SCIENCE STUDENTS, under the instruction of Homer Barr, each year have an individual project. This display shows many of the talents possessed by the young people.

THIS SOLAR SYSTEM is the creation of Lynn Seceniquia, 14-year-old freshman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seceniquia, 8 Pioneer st. It is on display in the Beaty science classroom.

A. L. LANGDON of 10 Conewango ave., has been appointed manager of the Warren National Bank's new Drive-In, Walk-In branch, located at the corner of Market and Water streets.

GUARDSMEN SEARCH FOR CRASHED PLANE

Volunteers from Warren's Company I left in individual cars for Chapman Dam at 8 o'clock this morning to conduct a ground search for a Cessna plane carrying a Broadway producer and his wife, that is believed downed in the area. The missing couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pollock of New York City.

The search broadens the extensive air search that has already been staged and will be conducted under the leadership of Col. Donald Hay, 112 Infantry Regiment commander.

A Mr. Casses of Erie, who was fishing on the lake at the time the plane was believed to have crashed, was brought to Warren to aid searchers.

JUBILEE SAVINGS THURSDAY - FRIDAY AND SATURDAY AT MILLER'S

A PURCHASE AWARD in the art exhibition in the Wetmore Gallery of the public library is "Moon Mist", by Albert Brites of Erie.

it is very poetic in feeling and conveys a sense of mystery by its closely related glazes of greens and blues.

"COMING SPRING", by Mrs. Sydney Lord of Erie, a choice of the jury of selection at the Warren Art Club exhibition, is a small landscape in the realistic vein and is painted with great verve and obvious enjoyment of the medium and subject. It is rich in color and mood. The shaft of yellow sunshine, dark shadows and scudding clouds leave no doubt concerning the artist's intent.

In Brief

PUBLIC OPEN HOUSE will be observed at the beautifully remodeled Pennsylvania Gas company office on Second ave. in Warren Friday evening, when the building will be open for inspection from 6:30 to 10:00 p. m. Last Tuesday over 200 employees of the company and their families visited the new office building.

A third floor has been added to the original structure and the basement and other floors have gone through a completely modern remodeling job.

The contractors for the job were Ludwig Peterson, general contracting; Bevevino, electrical; plumbing, Milton Dahler; painting, Jensen Paint company, all of Warren; heating and air conditioning, Sans Corp. of Jamestown; and elevator, Houghton Elevator, Buffalo. The architects were Beck and Tinkham of Jamestown.

THE NEW DRIVE-IN branch of the Warren National Bank, located at the corner of Market and Water streets, will have its formal opening Saturday, April 21, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. At this time the public is invited to come in and see the new office and the drive-in and walk-in service it will offer.

During the opening there will be potted tropical plants for the first 1200 ladies, ball point pens for the men and toy trucks for the youngsters. Also an old-fashioned "guessing contest" with the top three prizes ranging from $25 to $100 in a savings account. This contest will be open during the Saturday celebration and during regular banking hours on the first three days of the following week.

A. L. Langdon has been appointed branch manager and the tellers will be James G. Akeley and Mrs. Mary Gordon.

SPECIFICATIONS and invitations for bids for a general remodeling of the Warren Post Office this summer and fall have been released by the New York Regional office, General Services Administration.

Bids for the project must be submitted by May 1 and work is expected to begin by June 1 or sooner.

The entire project is expected to take five months for completion and is expected to relieve the critical situation that exists because of the increase in mail volume and activities over the past years.

A FORTY-YEAR SERVICE award has been presented Raymond Frank Gilmore, an employee of Railway Express Agency at Warren. The presentation was made by R. C. Anderson, division supervisor. Schueltz, who was driving without headlights, plead guilty to a drunken driving charge and was released on $1000 property bail.

A LONE TRAFFIC MISHAP took place on Conewango ave. at 9:55 p. m. last Saturday when Mrs. Edith E.
